Aurangabad is a historic city in the Maharashtra state of India. The city is a tourist hub, surrounded by many historical monuments, including the Ajanta Caves and Ellora Caves, which are UNESCO World Heritage Sites, as well as Bibi Ka Maqbara and Panchakki. The administrative headquarters of the Aurangabad Division or Marathwada region, Aurangabad, is said to be a City of Gates and the strong presence of these can be felt as one drive through the city. In 2010, the Maharashtra Tourism Minister declared Aurangabad to be the tourism capital of Maharashtra. It is also one of the fastest-growing cities in the world.

Ajanta Caves:

The Ajanta Caves are 31 rock-cut cave monuments which date from the 2nd century BC. The caves include paintings and sculptures considered to be masterpieces of both Buddhist religious art (which depict the Jataka tales)[8] as well as frescos which are reminiscent of the Sigiriya paintings in Sri Lanka.[9]

Ellora Caves

Declared as a UNESCO World Heritage Site, Ellora Caves are considered to be one of the world's largest rock-cut caves. Constructed between 600 and 1000 CE, the Ellora Caves consist of 100 Hindu, Jain, and Buddhist caves, out of which 34 are open to visitors.

Bibi-ka-Maqbara

Biwi ka Maqbara is a beautiful mausoleum located in Chhatrapati Sambhajinagar, Maharashtra, India. It was commissioned in 1660 by Prince Azam Shah, the son of Mughal Emperor Aurangzeb, in memory of his mother, Dilras Banu Begum. It was inspired by The Taj Mahal in Agra (often called the "Mini Taj Mahal"). Its Architecture is in Mughal style, with white marble domes, intricate carvings, and gardens in Charbagh layout.

Ghrishneshwar Temple

Considered as the Earth's 12th Jyotirlinga, the Ghrishneshwar Temple is one of the top historical places in Aurangabad for Hindu devotees. Exhibiting prehistoric architecture, the temple flaunts a 5-tier shikara, beautiful sculptures, and intricate ancient carvings.

Daulatabad Fort

Constructed back in the 12th century, the robust Daulatabad Fort is considered to be a very powerful fortification of the medieval era. Perched atop a conical hill at an elevation of 200 meters from sea level, this fort posed to be a real challenge to defeat. This fort had multiple layers of strong defense walls and could only be accessed by a slender bridge.

Bhadra Maruti

Dedicated to the Hindu god Lord Hanuman, Bhadra Maruti is one of the three temples of the country where the god can be seen in sleeping position. According to popular beliefs the ruler of Khuldabad was called Bhadravati and the king was devoted to Lord Rama.

Pitalkhora Caves

Dating back to the 2nd century BC, Pitalkhora Caves happen to be an age-old rock cut cave that poses to be the perfect epitome of Buddhist architectural design. Carved out of basalt rock, this cave monument is set alongside a picturesque cascading waterfall, which adds to its incredible beauty and charm.
